

Due Dads.com presents: The Man's Survival Guide to Pregnancy

Genre: Documentary/Parenting and Childcare

Age Range: Conception through Childbirth

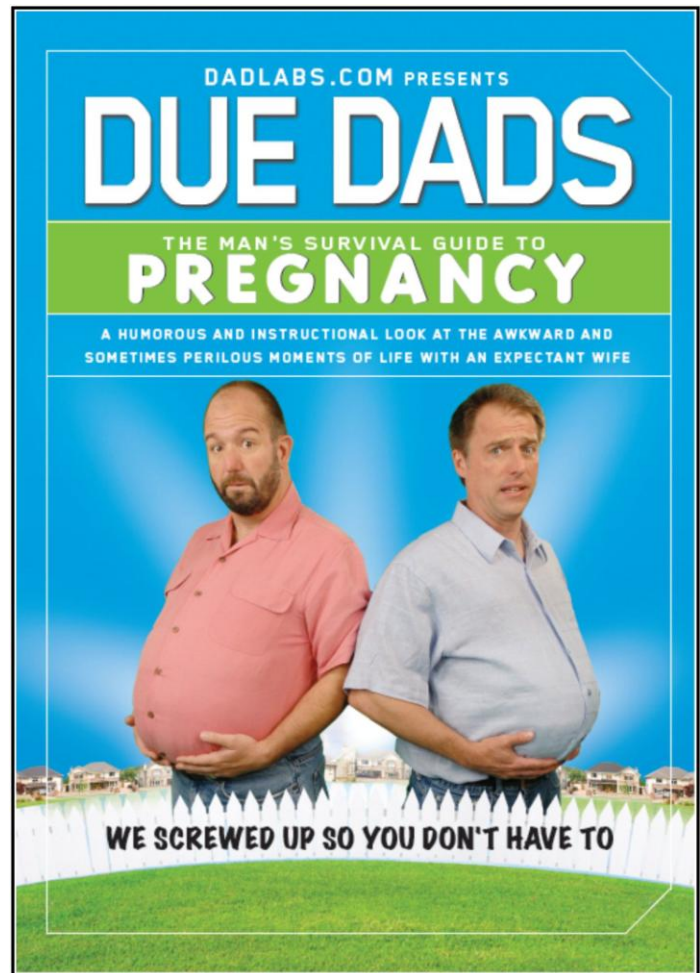

Fullscreen Not Rated Run Time: 75 min

It's positive! You're pregnant! Well technically, you aren't pregnant. That would be a medical miracle. Your wife is pregnant. But you are expecting too, in a way. You're not a dad yet—you're a DUE DAD...and you don't have a clue.

Don't panic. Even though expecting a baby has nothing to do with football playoffs, grilling excellent steaks, margin calls, fuel injection, or cold brewskis, this DVD will teach you the skills that will get you safely and happily to that big 0th birthday.

From the stars of DadLabs.com, Clay Nichols and Brad Powell, this DVD is a humorous and instructional look at preparing future dads. It provides realistic information in a fun way covering everything from ultra sounds to baby proofing the house.

The Man's Survival Guide to Pregnancy offers everything you'll need to navigate those crucial three trimesters leading to birth.
